HANNA TALKED OF AS ENTRANT IN SENATE RACE

Former Governor Said To Be Candidate of Some of the I. V. A. Leaders

DISCOUNT LOCAL MAN

Effort Made in Grand Forks Herald to Eliminate Judge Christianson

Former Governor L. B. Hanna is being looked to among some of the I. V. A. organization at Fargo as a candidate for United States senator representing that organization, according to reports in political circles. Governor Hanna is now abroad, but he has been a candidate for the senate before and he is understood not to be adverse to going to Washington in the future. Governor Hanna also is a rich man, reputed to be worth two or three million dollars, and could provide a campaign fund.

The reports are strengthened somewhat by the attempts upon the part of others to eliminate various candidates as "unacceptable." In addition to Gronna and McCumber there have been, it appears, concerted efforts to discourage sentiment for Judge Christianson. Ormsby McHarg first expressed this sentiment in a letter to the Fargo Forum. The Grand Forks Herald, owned by Jerry Bacon, long regarded as having a liking toward the position of United States senator, joins the McHarg effort.

Gronna Gets Busy

Meanwhile A. J. Gronna has opened headquarters in Fargo in the rear of the Dakota hotel, according to announcement from there. There still are a number of I. V. A. leaders who want to support Gronna, in spite of his recent attitude, holding that he has said nothing more than that he would support the I. V. A. state program. On the other hand there are many anti-leaguers, who have been in the state fight and worked with the I. V. A., who declare that the I. V. A. organization should keep "hands off" the senatorship. They point out that the organization based its claim for existence on the state fight, and that to branch into the federal field is a confession that the leaders are not so much interested in ridding the state of Nonpartisans as in building up a political machine of their own.

Attack Christianson

The editorial in the Grand Forks Herald in which Jerry Bacon's paper seeks to eliminate Judge Christianson, after printing a Washington dispatch stating that it is held there that there is no bar to Judge Christianson's candidacy, follows:

In the desultory discussion of possible candidates for the United States senate during recent months the name of Judge Christianson, of the state supreme court, has frequently been mentioned. There has been very general agreement that Judge Christianson's high personal character and his attitude toward public questions would make him a very useful and acceptable member of the senate, and it has also been generally believed that he would be a strong candidate in a political campaign. In this connection the question of the eligibility of North Dakota judges for other than judicial positions has also been mentioned. It has been understood in a general way that the state constitution has some provisions with reference to this subject, but usually interest in the subject has not been great enough to induce an examination of the constitution to see just what it does say.

Section 119 of the constitution of North Dakota says

No judge of the supreme or district courts shall be elected or appointed to any other than judicial offices or be eligible thereto during the term for which he was elected or appointed such judge. All votes or appointments for either of them for any elective or appointive office except that of judge of the supreme court, given by the legislative assembly or the people shall be void.

This seems to be fairly conclusive. It will be observed that the prohibition covers the full term for which the judge was elected or appointed, hence even his resignation of the judicial position would not make him eligible for any other until the full term for which he was elected or appointed has expired.

A dispatch from Washington says that a number of authorities in the capitol hold that this clause does not apply to federal positions such as United States senatorships, and attention is called to a Southern case in which, notwithstanding a clause in the state constitution which is said to be identical with the above, a judge was elected to congress and is now serving in that body.

In support of the view that the constitutional provision does not apply to positions in congress it is pointed out that each house of congress is the sole judge of the qualifications of its own members, and is not bound by any rules or regulations which a state may see fit to make.

There can be no question of the right of the federal senate or house to seat or exclude any person claiming membership therein, and of the complete independence of those bodies of state legislation. Neither can there be any question that if a North Dakota judge should go to Washington, presenting a certificate of election duly made out, he would be seated. The question is not what the senate would do with reference to a provision in the (Continued on Page 3)

FORMER MANDAN PHYSICIAN DONATES STATUE OF ROOSEVELT TO PORTLAND

Portland, Ore., March 29.—Admiration for Theodore Roosevelt as a man and citizen prompted Dr. Henry Waldo Coe, a Portland physician, who knew Roosevelt as a cowboy in North Dakota, to donate to the city of Portland an equestrian statue of the former President. The statue is now being made by Phinister Proctor, noted sculptor. It is expected to be finished some time this coming summer and President Warren G. Harding has been asked to officiate at the unveiling, if the statue is finished at the time the President makes his proposed western trip.

When Roosevelt lived at Medora, Dr. Coe was at Mandan, and they met as hunters. Dr. Coe had some hunting dogs that Roosevelt liked very well, and Roosevelt used to visit the Mandan region where the hunting was better than around Medora. In later years Dr. Coe visited with Roosevelt, in his train while the President was making a western trip, and relates that when they reached Medora, Roosevelt insisted upon shaking hands with every person in the town.

The statue is of heroic size, being 13 feet high above the base. An architect is to be engaged to design the base which will be about 10 feet high. A site for the statue has been chosen in a centrally located park.

Dr. Coe plans to place somewhere in North Dakota the cast from which the statue is made. Mandan, Minot and Bismarck have asked for it, but the place has not yet been selected.

50 DISABLED MEN OF WORLD WAR IN WESTERN N. D. TAKE TRAINING

Veterans Bureau Helps Them in Many Occupations; One Takes Up Finger-print Work

MUST MAKE CLAIM SOON

Fifty men disabled in the World War who live in the western part of North Dakota now are taking vocational training under the direction of the Veterans' Bureau, according to C. C. Mock, in charge of vocational training. Mr. Mock and J. R. Ruth, who is in charge of claims and insurance features for the bureau, both have their headquarters in Bismarck. Their work is a part of the plan of the Veterans' Bureau to bring the bureau work as close to the homes of the disabled service men as possible.

Ten of these men are receiving training in the city of Bismarck, five in the business college and five in "placement jobs" in the city.

Three of the five attending the business college are suffering from gunshot wounds. All are young and are paid to be making splendid progress in their work. Among those in "placement jobs" are men receiving training as mechanics in co-operation with the Corwin Motor company. After completing the vocational training courses the veterans are given additional training while they are on the job, the bureau not leaving them until they are amply able to take care of their work. One man is studying watch repairing, another typewriter repairing and another is employed in the office at the penitentiary and is taking accountancy by correspondence.

Perhaps the most unusual job of all is that of Jack Serres, former member of the Bismarck police force. Mr. Serres suffered a gunshot wound in the leg which makes him unable to walk a beat regularly. He is studying to be a fingerprint expert, and has the facilities of the Bertillon expert at the penitentiary to aid him. Mr. Serres is fitting himself to hold a desk job in this work.

Mrs. Fred Conklin has been appointed to represent the bureau locally, and is known as Veteran Bureau service officer. Mrs. Conklin, Mr. Ruth and Mr. Mock hope to settle all compensation and training claims in this district in the near future. Mr. Mock and Mr. Ruth, who have headquarters at the McKenzies hotel, are in Bismarck usually on Saturday and Sunday, but travel in the southern half of the state most of the time.

Mr. Mock called attention of service men to the necessity of filing claims before August 9. After that date no claims for training or compensation will be considered.

FIND RICKARD NOT GUILTY

New York, March 29.—Geo. L. ("Tex") Rickard, international sports promoter, last night was found not guilty of criminal assault on Sarah Schoenfeld, 15-year-old school girl, by a jury in supreme court. The verdict was handed down after the jury had deliberated an hour and a half.

When the verdict was announced, Rickard, his face flushed, went over to his counsel, Max D. Steur, and embraced him.

"This is the happiest day of my life," exclaimed Rickard.

There was some applause when the verdict was announced.

Rickard will probably not be called upon to answer three similar indictments that have been found against him by the grand jury. This was indicated by Assistant District Attorney Ferdinand Pecora, who conducted the trial of Rickard.

Germans Leaving Western Poland

Warsaw, March 29.—The German population is rapidly evacuating western Poland, new census figures show. Boynania, formerly "German Poland," with a pre-war German population of 678,000, has now only 251,000. Pomerania's former 420,000 population is reduced to 200,000.

Weather Forecast

For Bismarck and vicinity: Partly cloudy and somewhat unsettled tonight. For North Dakota: Partly cloudy and somewhat unsettled tonight and Thursday; warmer tonight.

MRS. O'HARE TO MAKE TALK IN STATE CAPITOL

Governor of Wisconsin Refuses Plea to Deny Her Use For a Meeting

Madison, Wis., March 29.—Katy Richards O'Hare will be permitted to use the assembly chamber of the Wisconsin capitol building to deliver an address on "Crime and Criminals" Thursday night under auspices of the Social Science club of the University of Wisconsin, Governor Blaine let it be known today.

"Neither the superintendent of public property nor the Governor can sit as a board of censors or deny the use of the capitol to recognized organizations," the Governor declared. "It is expected that any organization using the capitol will use it for a proper purpose, will refrain from any violation of law and conduct the meeting in a manner compatible with good order, and when they do official censorship is unjustifiable."

THINK FARMER IS SUICIDE; TO WATCH RIVER

Authorities at Mandan Asked to Place Watchers on Heart River at the Dam

Friends and relatives of Henry Kleigh, farmer living eight miles south of Almont, Morton county, unable to solve the mystery of his disappearance, fear he has committed suicide and that his body is in the ice-locked Heart river.

Mr. Kleigh is said to have left home on the morning of March 23. When he failed to return searching parties were formed but they have been unable to locate him. The suicide theory was advanced and an effort was made to drag Muddy creek. The body was not found.

County authorities have been requested to station men at the Heart river dam at Mandan. The river now is frozen solid. If the body floats down stream now it will be under the ice. It is feared that when the ice breaks up in the river the body might float down the river and escape the detection of watchers.

No reason is attached for his disappearance, and this has led to the suicide theory.

WILL RATIFY NAVAL TREATY

Washington, March 29.—Prediction that the senate would ratify the naval limitation treaty today in an unanimous vote was made by administration leaders in view of the important absence to the treaty when brought up yesterday for debate. The favorable sentiment revealed during the five hours of discussion yesterday resulted in an agreement for a final vote on ratification today at 3 P. M.

SENDS CORN TO AID FARMERS

Rt Rev Bishop Wehrle, bishop of the Catholic diocese of Bismarck, has sent a carload of feed corn to New England to be distributed among some of the poor farmers of the vicinity, according to a dispatch from New England. Bishop Wehrle is now out of the city.

FARGO MAN IS ROBBED ON TRAIN

Minneapolis, March 29.—G. E. Brooks, of Fargo, reported to the Minneapolis police today that while he was aboard a train last night someone picked his pockets of a wallet containing $35.00.

MILLION LOAN PAID TO BANK BY THE STATE

Mill and Elevator Association Settles Indebtedness with Bank of North Dakota

BANK HAS MUCH CASH

Liquidation of Loan Puts Bank in Favorable Position to Handle Business

A big step toward the liquidation of "frozen credits" of the Bank of North Dakota was announced today by the Industrial Commission in the repayment to the bank of all money borrowed by the Mill and Elevator Association, principally for the construction work on the Grand Forks mill and elevator.

The commission paid the bank $1,076,839.83. This included $1,053,310.50 in loans and remainder in accumulated interest charges, none of which had ever been paid to the bank. The payment was made from proceeds of the sale of mill and elevator bonds amounting to $1,145,766.67 to Spitzer, Rorick and Company, including accrued interest.

The liquidation of this loan, which was the largest single loan made to any state industry, has removed one of the causes of the difficulties which the Bank of North Dakota has experienced. There is also a loan of $413,000 to the Home Building Association which, it appears, cannot be liquidated in any considerable period of time.

Since the new administration has taken charge of the bank it has disposed of $400,000 of the bank series bonds and $750,000 of farm loan bonds. The policy to be pursued by the Industrial Commission in the future is one which, according to members, will not result in a great amount of "frozen credits" in the bank. Bonds will be issued on the work on the mill and elevator at Grand Forks as progress, probably in $100,000 lots. The same system is being used in the farm loan department, bonds being sold in blocks of $100,000.

Although expenses of the bank have been reduced heavily, it is not claimed by officials that the bank is making any profit at this time. The interest rates paid by the bank are heavy. There has been considered the reduction in the interest rates, particularly on time deposits on which 5-12 percent is paid.

There is a gradual liquidation of accounts of banks with the Bank of North Dakota, which has improved its position.

The farm loan department is now reaching a position where the volume of loans will be steady and large, it is stated. Loans amounting to $411,000 have been approved. Difficulty has been experienced in closing loans, partly due to the fact that had roads have kept farmers from going to town to their bank through which the final details of the loans are consummated.

GOV. M'MASTER LEADS IN S. D.

Holds Early Lead of 14,000 Over Opponent

LEAD INCREASES

Sioux Falls, S. D., March 29.—With returns from yesterday's primary election coming in slowly Governor W. H. McMaster's lead over George Egan, of Sioux Falls, for the Republican gubernatorial nomination is gradually increasing.

Sioux Falls, S. D., March 29.—Governor W. H. McMaster last night held a lead of more than 14,000 for Republican nominee for governor over George W. Egan of Sioux Falls, according to returns from approximately one-third of the precincts of the state, as compiled by the Sioux Falls Argus-Leader.

Scattered reports from all sections of the state indicate that Mr. Egan has carried only three counties, Moody, Minnehaha and Minn. and two cities, Sioux Falls and Rapid City. With 344 precincts out of 1,711 in the governor's majority was 14,786 votes. The totals stood McMaster, 38,386; Egan, 21,598.

The Republican gubernatorial contest was practically the only important question before the people for decision, both Democrat and Nonpartisan League candidates being unopposed.

In Minnehaha county one of the few counties in which there were contests among Republicans for the minor offices, the so-called "minority tickets" consisting largely of ex-service men, a party to have won by a large majority.

NORTH DAKOTA COW LEADS U. S.

Fargo, March 29.—A Jersey cow owned by S. F. Crabbe, of Fargo, has made the best record in milk and butterfat production of any cow in the United States in December, 1921, according to completed records, announced today. Noble's Golden Margaret, the cow, produced 1,749 pounds of milk, 93.40 pounds of butterfat during December.

BOMB EXPLODES DURING CHURCH "DRY" MEETING

Pussyfoot Johnson Continues His Talk in Wisconsin Church After Incident

ONE MAN IS INJURED

Investigation is Started by Authorities in Effort to Find Perpetrator of Outrage

Green Bay, Wis., March 29.—Investigation was started by police today to determine the origin of a bomb which was set off in the Congregational church here last night during a speech by Lewis Horton, prohibition worker. The bomb, made from gunpowder and loosely packed in a small box, exploded as it was being carried from the building by E. C. Walker. Mr. Walker's arm was severely burned to the shoulder.

Most of the 500 people who had congregated to hear an address by "Pussyfoot" Johnson remained seated and listened to his talk.

SEE HOPE FADE OF PREVENTING MINERS' STRIKE

Operators Gird Themselves For Struggle in the Anthracite Field

New York, March 29.—Casting aside as a "remote possibility" the prospect of settling their differences in time to avert the general strike set for three days hence, members of the anthracite sub-committee on wage contracts negotiations today girded themselves for a long, hard struggle over the miners' 19 demands.

ILLINOIS MINERS JOIN

Chicago, March 29.—Illinois miners will join the nation-wide coal strike set for April 1 and no hope of a postponement or initiation of a separate state wage agreement could be found, Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois miners told the head of the state operators association in conference here today.

Only an emergency could change the situation which now prevents him from negotiating a new wage contract, Mr. Farrington told the operators.

WIRTH REFUSAL TO GO BEFORE ALLIED BODY

German Chancellor Declares Germany Cannot Submit to Allied Demands

Paris, March 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Refusal by the German chancellor, Dr. Wirth, of the conditions attached by the reparations commission to the partial moratorium granted Germany on her reparations payments is expected to result in a meeting soon of the allied supreme council.

The chancellor's reply will come before the reparations commission first, but that body lacking the power to take any coercive measures will again refer the question to the allies.

An exchange of views will take place preparatory to this meeting which may precede the Genoa conference.

French official opinion is that Chancellor Wirth has been obliged to switch his position in order to maintain his majority and that he has become thoroughly committed to resistance to the allies.

ATTACK MADE UPON RUSSIAN

Berlin, March 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Two czarist officers have been arrested charged with killing Vladimir Nabokoff and attempting to assassinate Prof. Paul Miukoff while the latter was addressing a Russian meeting here last night.

LABOR LOCKOUT OF ENGINEERS

London, March 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The engineering employers' Federation today posted notices locking out the members of 47 unions in addition to the Amalgamated Engineers' Union. The lock-out is to take effect in one week and will affect 600,000 additional men.

WORLD WAR VETERAN

Grand Forks, N. D., March 29.—The body of E. W. Baldwin, World War veteran, who was wounded when his unit, Co. A, 26th Infantry, was sent forward to relieve the "Lost Battalion," and who died here Sunday as the result of tuberculosis contracted in service, was buried here with full military honors. He served at Verdun and the Argonne. His mother and a brother survive.

"SISAL TRUST" DEALS TOLD IN TOWNLEY CASE

J. W. Brinton Tells of Organization of That Concern During 1917

Fargo, March 29.—J. W. Brinton today continued testimony as to his alleged employment by A. C. Townley in connection with the United States Sisal Trust. Brinton, Townley's former personal representative is a witness in the preliminary hearing of the National Nonpartisan League head charged with the embezzlement of $2,000 from the defunct Scandinavian-American bank.

Mr. Townley sent him to Florida in 1917 to investigate the feasibility of the sisal proposition, the witness said. He also told of a grand jury investigation in 1919 of the financial activities of J. J. Hastings, who was vice-president of the bank and also trustee of the sisal trust.

It was at this time that the management of the Sisal Trust was changed from Hastings' hands to those of Brinton and J. R. Waters, who also was associated with Mr. Townley, the witness said.

Proceedings today were again slowed up by many objections.

Mr. Brinton detailed organization of the trust which he said was in Miami, Fla., despite many objections registered by the defense.

The prosecution case depends on ability to prove three points, prosecution attorneys said:

1. That Townley "counseled and advised" and that Hastings did make the $100,000 loan to the Sisal Trust without knowledge (at that time) of the bank's board of directors. There is a state statute against such action.
2. That Townley was principal owner of the Sisal Trust.
3. That he was therefore the beneficiary of the loan, which they say, under the circumstances, constitutes embezzlement.

MOUNT ETNA IN ERUPTION

London, March 29.—Mount Etna is in violent eruption, says a Central News dispatch from Rome quoting advice from Palermo. Streams of lava are flowing from all sides of the crater and the inhabitants of the villages on the mountain side have fled from their homes.

Several earthquakes have occurred in Palermo and Messina provinces the last few days.

HOUSE PASSES APPROPRIATION

Washington, March 29.—Without a roll-call the house today passed the army appropriation bill carrying approximately $288,000,000 to meet military and non military expenses of the War Department during the coming fiscal year.

ARTHUR BURCH ON TRIAL AGAIN

Los Angeles, March 29.—A courtroom career with his mother, their first meeting in some nine months, and cheerful greeting by Arthur C. Burch, of Evanston, Ill., with his father, the Rev W. A. Burch, preceded a summation today of the second trial of Burch on a charge of murder of J. Dalton Kennedy.

WANTS MEN TO WEAR CORSETS

Philadelphia, March 29.—Men as well as women should wear corsets, in the opinion of Amelia Bingham, actress, who addressed the New Century club yesterday. "Firmness," she said, "is desirable not only in women but in men as well."

ERIN PROBLEMS ARE CONSIDERED IN CONFERENCE

Meeting Called in London to Consider Efforts Made to Pacify Factions

DISORDERS CONTINUING

Report That Meeting is Held in Ireland to Consider Revolt Against Peace

TO MEET CRAIG

London, March 29.—At the conclusion of this afternoon's session on the conference on the situation in Ireland, Arthur Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann, informed the newspaper correspondents that the southern delegates would meet with Mr. James Craig, Ulster premier, and his colleagues tomorrow. The meeting is probably the most representative since early peace negotiations.

London, March 29.—(By the Associated Press).—London today again became the center of interest in the efforts to pacify Ireland with the opening of a conference called by the Imperial government to consider the situation growing out of the recent disorders.

DEBATE DICTATORSHIP

Dublin, March 29.—(By the Associated Press).—The convention on Sunday of revolting members of the Irish Republican army debated the question of declaring a military dictatorship but deferred action thereon, says a correspondent here of the London Star in a dispatch to this paper.

He gives as his authority a statement issued from the Beggar's Bush barracks this morning which says the proposal before the convention was to overthrow all government in Ireland opposed to a republic.

RAID POLICE BARRACKS

Belfast, March 29.—(By the Associated Press).—The police barracks at Belco near the Fermanagh-Cavan border were raided last night by armed men who crossed the Cavan county border which is only 100 yards away. Of the garman of 21 only six escaped. The other 15, with all the post's arms and ammunition, were carried into free state territory.

A police patrol was ambushed today. One special constable and a sergeant were shot and killed and another special wounded.

At Bally-Castle, in north Antrim, a branch of the Ulster bank was raided today and $20,000 taken. Bally-Castle is a strong Sinn Fein district.

FARMER IS SHOT

Belfast, March 29.—(By the Associated Press).—William Fleming was shot and fatally wounded today on his farm in County Armagh while carrying water for breakfast.

Dublin, March 29.—(By the Associated Press).—Republican members of the Dail Eireann, at a meeting here yesterday, adopted a resolution proposing immediate suspension of the political campaign in southern Ireland in order that the factions may "unite to compel cessation of the murder of Catholics in Belfast."

WILL VOTE ON SALARY LAW

Enough Signatures to Put Minimum Wage Law on Books

The people of North Dakota will vote on June 28 on the question of repealing the present teachers minimum wage law, it became assured today when it was announced at the secretary of state's office that petitions bearing more than 10,000 names asking for a vote on the repeal of the measure had been received.

The act, passed by the 1921 legislature, provided for a minimum amount of training, a minimum salary for a teaching experience of less than one school year, and a schedule of salary minimum for a teaching experience of from one to six years inclusive, for teachers in the public schools of the state.

The committee named for the petitioners is as follows: J. P. Sundquist, W. E. Smith, of Aneta; Martin Flom, of McVillie; and A. E. Anderson, Charles Ellingson and O. N. Grefshelm of Sharon.

POSSE HUNTS KANSAS NEGRO

Pratt, Kansas, March 29.—A posse of citizens and officers today were combing the country around Pratt in search of Lucas Smith, negro porter, who escaped from town late yesterday after an alleged attempt to attack Mrs. Mattie Hines, daughter of a Rock Island engineer, employed by a local abstract firm. The alleged attempt at assault was in the firm's vault. The girl's clothing was torn and one of her teeth knocked out.

RETURNING FINDS WIFE DEAD

Beach, N. D., March 29.—Returning from an out of town trip, William Francis of Beach, found his wife lying dead upon the floor. Death had apparently resulted from heart failure. She had been in good health on his departure.

CONGRESS LOOKS GOOD TO WOMEN -MANY TO RUN

Great - Great - Granddaughter of Benjamin Franklin Among The Candidates

TWO SISTERS ARE IN RACE

Chicago, March 28.—The following women are among those running for congress this year: Mrs. Ellen Dunne Davis of Philadelphia, Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck of Chicago, Mrs. Mary Belle Spencer of Hill Top, Cook county, Ill., Mrs. Irene Cleveland Buell of Ashland, Neb., and Mrs. A. K. Gault, mayor of St. Peter, Minn. The latter two are sisters.

MOTHER! CLEAN CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

dispute's sake." Though times have changed, the present candidates encounter an attitude of surprise some times, judging from remarks of Mrs. Buell and Mrs. Huck.

"It makes me weary to have people expect to be a freak because I am interested in politics," says Mrs. Buell of Nebraska, who adds, "mother always said I was the most domestic of her four daughters."

Mrs. Huck, who is the daughter of the late Congressman William E. Mason, in a statement to the Women's Press, replies to a young woman's remark, "the nerve of her going into such a big campaign," with the comment that "to be a good congressman, as she means to be, will require even more nerve."

Mrs. Buell, the "most domestic" of her mother's four daughters, has been city prosecutor of Ashland since 1918 though one mayor tried vainly to discharge her when she persisted in prosecuting his brother.

Mrs. Gault, the Minnesota candidate, is Mrs. Buell's sister. The two have filed papers in accordance with an agreement of long standing between the sisters that if one ran for congress the other should do likewise. Mrs. Buell says. Mrs. Buell set the example. The Nebraska woman, who classes herself as a progressive Democrat, adds that their father was the first mayor of the municipality of which Mrs. Gault is now mayor, and that politics runs in the family.

Would Continue Father's Work.

Similarly, Mrs. Huck, Republican, says that common interests with her father and determination to continue his work led her to file for congressman at large to fill the vacancy created by his death. She says the fact that she is happily married and the mother of four healthy children influenced party leaders to desire her candidacy. Mrs. Huck's supporters say that more than 900 down state Republican committeemen have endorsed her.

Mrs. Spencer, Republican, who has also filed for congressman at large from Illinois, is a soldier's wife and the mother of two baby girls. She was appointed public guardian of Cook county by Governor Lowden in 1918, and has continued in office to date. She practices law and has had cases in New York, California, Indiana and Kansas. She favors a soldiers' bonus, economy in administration, and "personal liberty in its broader sense."

She says she would vote on the liquor question as the majority of her constituents would, but omits mention of which side she would take.

Mrs. Spencer holds that crime has its source in the development of the child, and therefore she favors higher educational standards with reference to character training.

CONFERENCE ON DAIRY INDUSTRY IS HELD HERE

Many Leaders From Various Parts of the State in Session in Bismarck

DISCUSS NATIONAL SHOW

W. E. Skinner, Manager of National Show, Praises Interest in North Dakota

Leaders in the dairy industry of the state were in conference here this afternoon, the conference being called by Governor R. A. Nestos.

W. E. Skinner, general manager of the National Dairy Association, who has managed dairy shows over the entire country, addressed the meeting. The primary purpose of the call issued by the Governor to a number of leaders in the dairy industry was to hear Mr. Skinner.

"I came here as a direct result of last year's contact with the North Dakota agricultural interests at the time of the dairy show in Minneapolis," said Mr. Skinner. "The apparent attitude in North Dakota, in seeking betterment of agricultural development was really justification for the return of the national dairy show to the Northwest for this year. I came here to help leaders in agricultural thought in developing an organization that will give still greater benefits through this show."

The meeting was opened with the selection of S. E. Crabbe, of Fargo, as chairman. Mr. Skinner outlined the work of the national dairy association and the national dairy show.

Among the organizations represented in the conference were the North Dakota Dairymen's Association, the State Farm Bureau, the extension department of the Agricultural College, the New Salem Holstein Breeders Association, the Jamestown Testing Association, the Jamestown Commercial club, the state bankers' association, agricultural committee, W. E. Byerly, of the Northern Pacific immigration department, the creamery interests of the state, the state department of agriculture dairy division.

The meeting was held in the Commercial club rooms. Several men from Mandan, and towns west of the Missouri river were expected in on the afternoon train to participate in the conference.

now are accepting orders on both the Nash Six and Nash Four for delivery in turn as received by them."

N. P. Leaguers and Laborites To Meet In Minneapolis

Minneapolis, Minn., March 28.—Meeting in semi-official convention here March 31, Minnesota members of the Nonpartisan league and certain labor organizations will draft a program to govern their activities in the state political campaign this year.

Announcement of A. C. Townley, president of the National Nonpartisan league that he would not urge consideration of his "balance of power" plan by the convention, has removed an issue that promised to provoke considerable contention.

This proposed plan called for endorsement of candidates deemed favorable to the league's interests, regardless of party affiliation, "as against the prevailing system of placing avowedly league candidates in the field."

Mr. Townley contended his plan would make the league and labor vote a "balance of power" as between Democratic and Republican candidates, and enable the league-labor faction to exact assurances of cooperation from candidates before swinging league endorsement to them.

In several meetings of laborites in Minneapolis, this "balance of power" plan was condemned. It met defeat in a majority of the Nonpartisan league county conventions in North Dakota.

SOUTH DAKOTA PRIMARIES TAKE PLACE TODAY

G. W. Egan For Third Time Will Try To Capture Republican Nomination For Governor

Pierre, S. D., March 28.—Although all three parties in South Dakota—Republican, Democratic and Nonpartisan—will hold their primary elections throughout the state today, there is only one important issue to be determined. That will be the Republican nomination for governor.

This lies between Governor W. H. McMaster, present incumbent, of Yankton, and George W. Egan of Sioux Falls. The former received the party endorsement at the Republican proposal meeting here Dec. 6, 1921, who has twice before sought the Republican nomination for governor, once in 1912 and again in 1918, broke into the field, the third time by filing as an independent Republican candidate.

There are no contests for gubernatorial nominations in either the Democratic or Nonpartisan parties and the candidates proposed at their respective proposal meetings last December, Louis Crill of Elk Point, Democrat, and Miss Alice Lorraine Day of Mitchell, Nonpartisan, automatically become the party nominees for the state election next November.

Each party will elect a state party chairman at the coming primaries. These will doubtless be the men selected and endorsed at the proposal meetings: George W. Wright of Haron, Republican; W. W. Howes of Wolsey, Democrat, and Tom Ayres of Mitchell, Nonpartisan. On the Democratic and Nonpartisan ballots these will be the only names appearing.

Beside the names of Egan, McMaster and Wright, there will be one other on the Republican ballot, that of W. E. Milligan of Aberdeen, who was proposed and endorsed at the December meeting here for national committeeman. Like Mr. Wright, Milligan is up for election at the primary and not nomination.

There will be no vote for congressmen, senators or other state officers at today's primaries.

NASH FACTORY IS KEPT BUSY

Rush of Orders From All Sections is Reported

With a complete line of twelve new models and with prices reduced to rock bottom the Nash Motors company enters the spring season with orders for March shipment sixty-seven per cent in excess of shipping orders the same month a year ago. Factory records show that in March last year 2,081 Nash cars were ordered by dealers and distributors throughout the country while this year's orders for March shipment total 3,486 cars.

These figures include both six and four cylinder models. The company's four-cylinder car plant at Milwaukee is completely oversold and from all indications, according to officials of the Nash Motors Company, there will not be Nash Fours enough at any time this spring to meet the demand. Practically the same situation applies to the Nash Six plant at Kenosha, where every effort is being made to reach production in volume sufficient to meet the demand.

"The attitude of the buying public toward the Nash product is gratifying," said C. B. Voorhis, vice president and director of sales. "We would, of course, much prefer to supply the demand with a promptness that would eliminate the necessity of a buyer having to wait for delivery of his car and the factory, therefore, is making every effort possible to meet the situation. But frankly we will not be able to produce Nash four-cylinder cars this spring in volume sufficient to meet the demand and I doubt very seriously whether after April 1 we will be able to produce six-cylinder cars in quantities that will insure the buyer against delayed delivery. Many of our dealers have advised us that they

Swift's Premium Ham and Swift's Premium Bacon are produced from only the best hogs. Many of the animals we buy do not furnish meat of Premium quality.

Since these are the choice cuts from the best hogs, cured and smoked in the best way, with scientific care and precision, they are naturally in great demand; but these cuts, with the loin from which pork chops come, represent only about 34 per cent of the live animal.

The remaining 66 per cent consists of the cheaper cuts, such as spare ribs, shoulders, trimmings, pigs' feet, lard, etc., and shrinkage in dressing and curing. Shrinkage is equal to one pound in each five, and has no value whatever.

That is why the prices of "Premium" Ham and Bacon and pork loins are higher than the price of the live animal.

Everybody wants them—and yet they are only about one-third of the entire weight. "Premium" Bacon alone is only about 8 per cent.

The great demand for the choicer cuts, and the smaller demand for the cheaper cuts, constitute the reason for the comparatively higher price of the one-third, and the lower price of the other two-thirds. (Some of the lower priced cuts sell at less than the per-pound price of the live animal.

It is only by utilizing all possible by-products and exercising the utmost skill and efficiency that we are able to average a profit of a fraction of a cent a pound on all our business.

N. B. Some very delicious dishes can be prepared from the cheaper cuts.

METHODIST MEN DON APRONS FOR CHURCH BANQUET

Prove Their Ability in the Kitchen by Feeding Nearly 200 at Banquet

CHURCH PROGRESS TOLD Many Speakers Relate Accomplishments of the Church in Various Lines

Men of the Methodist Church last night proved their ability to wield a frying pan when they planned, prepared, cooked and served a banquet to nearly 200 men and women of the congregation in the basement of the McCabe church.

The roast which was served was baked in a local bakery, because the church ovens were not large enough, but a Methodist baked it. The other edibles were baked in the church kitchen, except the cakes which the men admitted were baked in their own home and for which they thanked the ladies.

Rev. S. F. Halford was toastmaster for the occasion. Although he praised the men for the banquet and announced that the committee had been very careful in its selection of speakers for the occasion he did admit that the committee found it impossible to complete the program without a speech from a woman and music from two others.

George E. Wallace, the first speaker on the program, told of the building of the McCabe Methodist church, saying that it was considered a miracle and impossible by some in the days when it was built. The edifice was occupied only in part at first, he said, and was improved and added to as the years passed. He called attention to the modern heating plant installed this winter. With a little more improvement, he said, the church will be complete. The speaker emphasized the accomplishments of the past as an indication of what the church can do in the future. He told of the boys work done in connection with the church.

J. P. Jackson, addressing the banquet, told of the manner in which a great Methodist church of Boston solved the problem of handling Urban Ledoux's army of the unemployed after the civil authorities had failed. He declared that in times of stress the church had always risen to the occasion. Many big men not now allied with the church would be if they realized the great things that the church has done, he said.

Mrs. C. W. Moses talked of the scope of affairs of women. One of the accomplishments which women yet have to conclusively prove they are better fitted for is the administration of public office, she said. She said that she knew of only one conspicuous success, that of Lady Astor in the English parliament. She suggested that women should be careful in going into politics. She also reviewed the many things that the women of the McCabe Methodist church have done for the church, including large contributions of money for the heating plant and other improvements.

The Body of Christ
Judge L. E. Birdsell, speaking of the relation of the church to society, discussed the importance of the church in the economic structure of the nation. Man seldom has taken a forward step that has not sprung from a religious body, he said. Every great crisis, he said, has been met in a spirit of religious fervor. The greatest advancements in the structure of society have originated in the heart, and not in the mind, he told the audience.

Dr. H. Styles Harris, district superintendent, spoke of the relief work done by the Methodist church in southwestern North Dakota during the winter. He told of great need and suffering, and declared that the people of the Methodist church had been the most potent factor in relieving suffering.

Music was furnished by a quartette composed of Mrs. Ackerman, Miss Myrtle Scoville, Mr. Lobach and Mr. Noggle, and a male chorus under the leadership of Mr. Noggle.

constitution of North Dakota, but what the people of North Dakota are, expected to with reference to it.

Out of Politics.
There is a sentiment, not as strong in some quarters as it might be, but still fairly strong generally, that judicial positions are not and ought not to be political; that they should be separated as widely as possible from political contests and considerations; and that the court should not be made the stepping stone to political preference. In order to give expression to this sentiment numerous provisions have been made placing the judicial office on a basis different from any other. One such provision is that above quoted. What does it mean?

Briefly, it means that North Dakota judges shall keep out of politics until their terms have expired. Our constitution cannot prevent congress from seating any whom it may deem eligible. But it did what it could, and all that it could, to prevent the judges of the state from mingling in political campaigns and to remove from them the temptation to relegate their judicial duties to a secondary place. The constitution cannot regulate the acts of congress but it does undertake to govern the acts of its own citizens by declaring that neither the people of the state nor the legislature of the state shall elect or appoint state judges to other than judicial positions, and that any such elections or appointments shall be void. And, for the sole purpose for which that clause was written—the complete separation of the judiciary from politics—the candidacy of a judge for a federal position is as objectionable as it would be for a state office.

Those citizens of North Dakota who are grouped under the general classification of independents have properly placed strong emphasis on orderly procedure in matters of government, and on the faithful observance, not merely of the letter, but of the spirit of the constitution. They cannot now do violence to that constitution by using a transparent subterfuge for the evasion of its plain intent.

It can be nothing more or less than subterfuge to maintain that the constitution has any other intent than to separate its judiciary from politics.

Boost Engliert
One of the most unusual features which followed the Nonpartisan convention at Fargo is the favorable word given Judge Engliert in anti-league circles. The Fargo Forum holds that the fact that Judge Engliert was endorsed by the league should not keep people from voting for him, because of his record. Percy Trubshaw, ardent anti-leaguer, in his Valley City Times-Record also takes this view saying that "Judge Engliert will do the court honor if elected."

CURTAILMENT OF LABOR ON FARMS SHOWN

Many Farmers To Try and Do
Most of Their Own Work
This Spring, Reports Say

There will be a curtailment of employment by farmers this spring, it is indicated by reports of the various county farm bureaus in the state, issued by Albert Peterson, president of the McLean County Farm Bureau, to the various agencies in that county. The reports are largely estimates. Mr. Peterson states, as little farm labor is now being employed.

Wages expected to be paid this spring in many counties follow: Burke, $25 to $30; Cass, $25 to $30; Dickey, $30 to $40; Eddy, $35 to $40; Foster, $25 to $30; Golden Valley, $20 to $40; Grand Forks, $25 to $30; Grant, $25 to $30; McLean, unknown yet; Pierce, $35; Ramsey, $30 to $35; Renneville, $35; Richland, $25 to $30; Slope, $30; Ward, $25 to $35; Wells, $25 to $30; Walsh, $35; Williams, $30.

The report continues:
The Executive Committee of the Wells County Farm Bureau met with its township board members at Fessenden, March 6th. An extended discussion of the labor situation resulted in a vote for the season's wages at $25 to $35 per month, and that spring work should open at $25 per month with board and lodging.

The State-Federal Free Employment Agency at Fargo reports a wage of $30 to $35 an hour for common labor (does not include board and lodging) in the Twin Cities and that very few real good farm hands are coming in from the east but a week of warm weather will bring in more men.

Reports from South Dakota would indicate a monthly wage of $15 to $40 with a large number of reports around $30. There is little demand for labor. Supply normal.

The Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation has compiled the recommended wage scale by counties. It averages $23.75 per month with $32.50 per month for eight months. Small demand with normal supply of labor.

LORD NORTHCLEFFE ASK ARABS, JEWS, TO BE MORE REASONABLE

Jerusalem, March 29.—Lord Northcliffe, British newspaper publisher, expressed surprise on his visit here that it was deemed necessary to meet him and escort him through the streets with armored cars. He said it was a source of wonder to him how little people in England and America knew about the conditions existing in the Holy Land.

Voicing regret that he found Palestine so unhappy, he asserted that the British public "was imperfectly informed regarding the feeling in Palestine" and he added that he hoped "Palestinians would not move too quickly and make Palestine 'another Ireland.'"

Lord Northcliffe was given an opportunity to hear two sides of the Zionist question. A delegation of Orthodox Jews which waited on him protested against Zionism. Later a deputation of Zionists called and requested an expression from him on the Balfour declaration of Great Britain's intention to make this a Jewish homeland. To this latter delegation, the Britisher said:

"No one wishes the Jews to return to the Holy Land more than I do but I have the greatest regret of the need of armored cars. You exaggerate the idea that the only topic we have in England is Zion. Every one does not agree as yet on the interpretation of the Balfour declaration."

He reminded the Zionists that Orthodox Jewry did not concur in the political aims of Zionism as indicated by the delegation from that faction which had previously called upon him. Concluding Lord Northcliffe expressed the hope that Arabs and Jews would be more reasonable in their demands upon England and work together for the good of Palestine.

GOOD PROSPECT FOR CROP, SAYS RESERVE AGENT

John H. Rich, of Federal Reserve, Reviews Prospects
For Coming Year

WESTERN N. D. REPORTS Problem of Years to be One Chiefly of Financing and Distribution

Minneapolis, Minn., March 29.—Optimistic reports concerning prospects for western North Dakota and Montana are contained in the February summary of crop and business conditions in the Ninth Federal Reserve district as made by John H. Rich, federal reserve agent for the district.

That acreage prospects have improved in this section, that moisture conditions are excellent, that winter wheat has come through in fine shape and that comparatively small areas will need help in financing seed shortages, are among the statements made.

Business in February was about the same as in January, according to the report. Grain receipts at terminals were larger; there was a decline in livestock receipts; wholesale business was better, with a decline in retail business; unemployment conditions have improved and business failures were slightly lower, both in liabilities and in number, but continued greater than a year ago. Prospective building activity declined only in valuation, but the number and valuation were both one-quarter less than a year ago.

Acreage Prospects
"Six weeks ago there were many pessimistic reports about the probable acreage for 1922," says the report. "The improvement in agricultural prices since that time has largely done away with the apprehension that the district might not have the normal plantings of cereals and corn."

"Winter wheat, of which there is a good acreage in the western part of the district, has come through the winter in splendid shape and very little of it has suffered due to the fact that it was well protected by good snowfalls."

Moisture Conditions
"Moisture conditions in northern Montana and western North Dakota promise to be excellent and recent reports indicate that farmers there are much more disposed to put in good acreages. Among the farmers there is a widespread feeling, whether justified or not, that northwestern wheat is going to be in demand at good prices, and farmers point to the injury to the southwestern crop and to the volume of exports as factors likely to result in good wheat prices in the fall."

"Warm winds have carried off a good deal of snow in the western end of this district and the promise of an early, active, spring season has been very stimulating. There will be some sections of western North Dakota where it will be necessary to finance seed purchases and this is being arranged for by the issue of warrants. A shortage of seed is unlikely and the problems involved are chiefly those of financing and distribution. Comparatively small areas need help."

Prices Continue Upward
"The upward movement of median prices of agricultural products increased in strength during February. Flax sold higher than at any time since October, 1920. The median price of hogs was higher than at any time since the compilation of medians was commenced, August, 1920."

"All grain medians at Minneapolis moved up appreciably during February. The flax median rose 28 1-2 cents, wheat 19 1-4 cents, corn 9 1-2 cents, barley 6 cent and oats 3 1-2 cents."

"All median livestock prices reached new highs for 1922 during February. Hogs were up 1.65 over January and $3.15 over December, when the present increase began. Lambs rose $1.50 over January having shown increases in every month since October. Between October and February lambs have risen $4.50. Butcher cows and veal calves were up $1.00 over January. Stock and feeder steers were up 50 cents and butcher steers 25 cents."

"An acute situation has developed in the domestic linseed oil industry."

STOP DISEASE

Coughs, colds, spasmodic croup, whooping cough, la grippe and bronchial cough should receive immediate treatment, or more dangerous sickness may result. Don't delay. Use Foley's Honey and Tar undilutedly the best known and most successful cough medicine on the market. It's wholesome and safe; no better remedy known.

John Vennart, Elberton, Ga., writes: "I took a most severe cold and coughed night and day. My throat felt as though two knives had been torn out. I used Foley's Honey and Tar. My condition began to improve at once and in a few days I was as well as ever."

Flax stocks at Minneapolis and Duluth have declined for eight consecutive months and are now less than one-tenth of a year ago. Receipts of flax at these two cities have been less than half of normal for the current crop year. This condition has caused the price of flax to rise rapidly. The present price is largely dependent upon the price of Argentine flax.

Financial Conditions
"Twin city banks report reductions in loans and deposits while member banks in other cities report increases in loans and deposits, the aggregate for the district indicating a reduction of loans of customers at banks and by member banks at the Federal Reserve bank. Cash reserves have increased. Market interest rates declined slightly in the month ending March 15. The advance of one-fourth per cent in 90-day commercial paper, while the longer maturities declined one-fourth percent, indicates the relative decline in the demand for shorter maturities at the prevailing rate of 4 3-4 per cent. Sales of investments are being made to bankers in somewhat larger quantities although the public bought much less."

Unemployment Summary
Winter unemployment has passed its peak and all attention is now centered on the possible developments of the next 90 days. During the next month the demand for farm labor will strengthen considerably and building will again be an important factor in employment.

"It is now possible to summarize the effects of unemployment during the winter 1921-1922 as shown by the operations of charitable organizations in Minneapolis. The Associated charities and board of public welfare gave aid to families of 11,000 unemployed as compared with 275 in the preceding winter. Disbursements for relief of these families totaled about $29,000 this year as compared with $6,000 a year ago. The number of homeless men cared for was 2,430 this year as compared with 218 a year ago; and relief funds used in assisting these men amounted to $24,000 this year as compared with $1,500 a year ago."

Swedish Students Sing Praises of American U. Life

Stockholm, March 29.—Swedish students and scholars who have been enabled by scholarships to pursue post-graduate work in America have found much to admire in American universities and colleges and are telling their folks at home about it when they return or in letters.

American university life seems to have captured their good-will while American scholarship as represented in the larger universities has evoked their praise.

What has completely won Swedish scholars, they say, is the liberal spirit and generosity of American colleges in enabling the Swedish visitors to prolong their stay by additional scholarship grants.

Reports by these students and scholars are receiving wide publication in Swedish newspapers. They are winners of scholarships given by the Sweden-America Foundation, which since 1919 has afforded about 45 of them opportunities to study in various American educational institutions. In return the American-Scandinavian Foundation of New York City has presented scholarships to about 30 American students for study in Swedish universities.

Indications are seen here that this exchange of students is a potent influence for the promotion of international friendship.

Some of the Swedish students took their post-graduate courses in American banking and industrial houses in order to study American business and commercial methods. One of these reported that he found the large New York bank where he spent more than a year to be marvelously organized and operated.

New York

Lever Bros. Co.,
Cambridge, Mass.

Gentlemen:

We had a natural colored camel's hair sweater and a King blue scarf of soft wool tested with Lux. Each was given the average number of washings for a garment of this kind.

At the end of the washings the garments showed practically no signs of wear and the wools still retained their softness and springiness. The loss of color in the yarns was so slight that it would not have been perceptible to the average woman.

A strong or harsh soap would not only have shrunk the wool and taken away its elasticity, but would have faded the colors as well. There could be no more convincing testimonial to the purity and mildness of Lux than the way our woolens looked after repeated launderings in it.

Very truly yours,

Fargo, March 29.—Wages offered throughout North Dakota, for men and women are more nearly equal than they have been in years, according to Mrs. M. B. Bove, in charge of the United States employment office here. She refused to quote figures.

VIENNA GIRLS
SHOULDN'T READ
MARRIAGE ADS

Vienna, Mar. 29.—Vienna girls are being warned not to be misled by marriage advertisements from America. Half dozen alleged cases of deception that are cited by Der Morgan which asserts they are "but few out of hundreds" in which Austrian women have gone to America to marry.

One case described is that of a daughter of a "high official" who answered an advertisement in a Vienna paper stating that an engineer in Chicago desired to wed a pretty educated Viennese. In German the word engineer always means a professional title and is never applied to mechanics.

Anti-Blue Law
League To Meet
In St. Louis, Mo.

St. Louis, Mo., March 29.—Many prominent members of the Anti Blue Law League have been invited to attend the national conference of the league here June 23 to 25, according to F. C. Dailey, executive secretary of the organization.

The members include Luther Burbank, Hudson Maxim, former Governor Fenimore Chatterton of Wyoming, Rex Beach and Booth Tarkington, novelists, James Montgomery Flagg, artist, Madame Atheltis Gallucci, prima donna, United States Senator E. S. Broussard of Louisiana and A. O. Stanley of Kentucky, and Congressman Rodenburg of Illinois.

Who Are the 10 Great Statesmen?

Do you like to solve puzzles? Good. Then try this new one. It's a peach. See the ten funny sentences above. Rearrange these sentences so that you have the names of ten famous statesmen. For instance, by correctly rearranging Sentence No. 10, you will have our President's name, Warren Harding. If you can rearrange all the ten names you can win First Prize.

Most likely you know the names of quite a number of the country's most famous Statesmen but just to refresh your memory we are listing a few of them: Charles Hughes, Warren Harding, Andrew Volstead, Gilbert Hitchcock, Hiram Johnson, Miles Poindexter, James Reed, Herbert Hoover, Charles Mellon, Henry Wallace, Arthur Capper, William Bryan, Calvin Coolidge, Woodrow Wilson, Henry Lodge, Carter Glass, Charles Denby, John Weeks and Oscar Underwood.

185 "Points" Wins $1000 Prize

Here's the way to win. If you get 185 points you will be awarded the first prize of $1,000 or a fine new Oakland Touring Car. You will receive 100 points for solving the puzzle shown above—10 points for each name that you arrange correctly. That will be more than half the battle won. Of the remaining points 60 will be awarded as soon as you prove that you have introduced The Rural American into five homes. You can get the other 25 points by making up the nearest correct list of words out of the first two letters of the last names of the ten statesmen.

DON'T send your list of words in NOW. Just send your answer to the above puzzle. If it is correct it will win you 100 points toward the $1,000.00 or the Oakland Touring Car. Send in your solution right away. We will write and tell you how to get up your word list.

Easy to Win—Send No Money

You will not be asked to subscribe to The Rural American or to spend a single penny of your money in order to win. We merely want your help in introducing this weekly news paper to five of your friends. Just write your answer to the Great Statesmen Puzzle on one side of the sheet of paper and PRINT your name and address in the upper right hand corner. The answer gaining 185 points will win the Oakland Touring Car or the $1,000.00. There are 25 big prizes in all. In case of a tie, all tying contestants will receive the prize tied for. Be your best and you can win. Contest closes May 31st, 1922. Answer the puzzle NOW.

Spring Heralded By Club Banquet

Sixty-two women assembled in the dining room of the McKenzie last evening for the annual spring banquet of the Business and Professional Women and their guests. Following an excellent dinner, Miss Hazel Nielson, president of the club, presented a group of toasts. From the acrostic S-P-B-I-N-G, the toasts were given. Miss Emma Taubert sang a spring song. Dr. Bolton-Henry followed with a toast to the professions for women. Mrs. Overt A. Olson read "Keep Smiling." Miss Runey read an original verse on the subject of "Interest." Miss Mallory, principal of William Moore school, read a toast on the beauty and worth of "North Dakota," and Mrs. Florence Davis, city librarian, closed with a toast to "Good Fellowship."

The toast mistress read a charming letter from one of the associate members, Mrs. Alfred Zuger, who was prevented through illness from attending the banquet.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Tyrrell of Underwood, Mes. Cora Simpson of Dickinson, and Miss Henning of Fargo, who is the house guest of her sister Mrs. Kling. Miss Henning having recently returned from a two years' sojourn abroad.

Favorite songs were sung by the company during the banquet, accompanied by the McKenzie orchestra. The orchestra also played several pleasing numbers during the evening.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a yellow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

NESTOS GIVEN AN OVATION BY ROTARIANS HERE

Members Join in Singing Song to Tune of "Wisconsin," Old University Song

TALK DULUTH MEETING

Governor Nestos was given an ovation by the Bismarck Rotary club this noon at the McKenzie hotel in token of the reception and impression he made at the district meeting of the Rotary clubs at Duluth, where Burt Finney, chairman of the Bismarck club, in introducing the governor, said that Governor Nestos had made the "hit" of the convention in a five minute speech that was a masterpiece.

When Governor Nestos rose to his feet, the members of the club joined in the following song set to the tune, "On Wisconsin," the melody of Governor Nestos' alma mater:

TO OUR GOVERNOR
Hail thee, Governor;
Hail thee, Governor;
Of our glorious state!
We her loyal sons, salute thee,
While we celebrate.
None can best us
While we're Nestos
For our Governor;
We'll not exchange for
Kings, Prince, Emperor

Hank Halverson led the song and it was followed by resounding applause as Chairman Finney told the impression Governor Nestos made as a member of the Minot delegation at the Duluth meeting.

Governor Nestos spoke of the inspiration gained at the meeting. He said that the delegates returned from the session imbued with a new impression of Rotary.

The appearance of Governor Nestos at the Duluth Rotary convention was the signal for probably one of the most unique demonstrations of the sessions and the Bismarck Rotary club staged a pocket edition of that ovation today.

Dr. Eric Quain told in a very interesting manner his impression of the Duluth meeting and gave in some detail the speeches offered at that meeting that interpreted the spirit of Rotary.

Members of Rotary who have been indignant at the insinuations of the Buffalo Horn, a weekly organ of Rotary, attempted to pierce the veil of secrecy that surrounds the identity of its editor. Leonard Bell challenged the editor to proclaim himself but without success.

Phil Meyer read the bill of particulars against the editor.

Members of the Jamestown Rotary volleyball ball team were guests at the luncheon and both sides went through a graphic challenge. This team meets Bismarck at the High School Gymnasium late this afternoon.

Teams of Rotary started out this afternoon to clean up the 1922 budget for the boys welfare work under the auspices of Rotary.

SENSIBLE WOMEN

no longer doubt the efficacy of that old-fashioned root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, because it relieves the ailments to which they are afflicted. In almost every neighborhood there are living witnesses of its wonderful effects. Therefore, if you doubt its value or power to help you, ask your neighbor. In nine times out of ten she has been benefited by its use or knows someone who has. It will pay you to give this root and herb medicine a trial.—Adv.

Usually, in a regular figure only two or three inches. But, in men who carry themselves very erectly, the difference is larger.

Obviously, such men require a special model—can't be well fitted in any usual style.

ALICE JOYCE IN FILM ADAPTED FROM NOVEL

"The Inner Chamber," which will be shown at the Capitol theater tonight, is an adaptation of Charles Caldwell Doble's famous novel, "The Blood Red Dawn." The continuity was written by C. Graham Baker and presents Alice Joyce in the type of role in which she is at her best, a story of social life in which the heroine encounters both poverty and affluence. She is beset by unscrupulous social enemies, but rises above all obstacles and difficulties.

Not alone does the story present Miss Joyce with excellent opportunities for emotional acting, but the other characters call for stage ability of the highest order, and the cast is an unusually lengthy one.

The production requires many beautiful exterior scenes and elaborate interior settings.

"HAIL THE WOMAN" AT THE ELTINGE

None of the family dares approach the Deacon. The old man was fiercely nursing a broken heart. He hated them all.

Then a very small hand patted him on the arm. A very small figure (limbed up on the old man's knee. And a little voice said just one sentence that changed the world for the hard old deacon. Tears came from unaccustomed, bitter old eyes. The miracle had happened. This, with the dramatic incidents leading up to it, is one of the most beautiful and tender situations in "Hail the Woman," which comes to the Eltinge on Thursday and Friday.

Theodore Roberts is the grim old Deacon; beautiful Florence Vidor is the daughter who goes out into the world to escape the harshness and tyranny of her father; Lloyd Hughes is the weakling son. Others in the fine cast of characters are Madge Bellamy, Tully Marshall and Gertrude Clair. The children are Murie Dana and Eugene Hoffman.

SUGGESTIVE MOVIES
As the country swings back to normal, there's a reaction against suggestiveness in the movies. The Boccaccio type of picture, with its vampires and lounge lizards, sprouted up as a natural part of the crop of jazz, which in all centuries is the way abnormal prosperity, mortgaging the future, expresses itself.

Jazz is checking out and with it, the movie that exploited filth behind a "problem play" mask.

The gradual passing of suggestive movies is a psychological rather than a theatrical phenomenon. For entertainment of all kinds is a mirror of its audience.

Suggestive movies, active agents causing decay of public morals, also were the expression of decay, the response by the producers to what they thought the public wanted.

The producers went too far. Public revolted. An era of clean, virile movies is coming, because the public again is thinking healthy thoughts, and the movie that doesn't sense the changed drift is not long for this world.

An adult is not immune to suggestion. But, after all, he is "set in his ways," thereby having a certain protective armor, compared with children whose morals are in the formative period.

What kind of movies should children see? Chicago recently tried to find out. Seeking something to take the place of blood-and-thunder movies in childish popularity, it gathered 4500 school children together. The show included a comedy, trained animal features, nature movies, picture of children catching sardines, and geographical lessons.

Outside of the geographical lessons, the applause played no favorites. An official commented that nothing was learned from the exhibition.

He was wrong. The try-out showed what any mother knows—that children, just beginning to sit up and take notice of the mysterious world with its constantly advancing horizon for childhood, are keen about anything that is interesting.

In particular, children are interested in wholesome fun and animals. These two elements should be the background of juvenile movies teaching important things by suggestion.

Children will gorge on the bread of knowledge if there's plenty of the jam of entertainment and interest.

BANKRUPTCY
Some British business men and politicians fear that Germany's bankruptcy may be near. In such case, they wonder, how would reparations be paid?

Suppose Germany did go bankrupt. What then?

After a trance-like confusion, Germans would go ahead growing crops and running factories. They'd pay their indemnity in goods. What's the difference? That's how they're paying now, by exports, having very little gold.

Keeping Germany at work is more important than her money system.

HYPNOTIST
Money is a hypnotist, though a great convenience.

If a nation like Germany went bankrupt by forcible divorce from the gold standard, it would result in someone devising a money system based on units of human productive energy.

An equally balanced exchange of products of human toil would be possible by a system of metering the value of human energy—like metering gas and electricity. It is easier said than done. Real problem, then as now, would be agreeing on relative values.

UNCERTAINTY
Times have been like a sailing ship in a typhoon, with the masts torn away, the rudder crippled, the crew working frantically at the pumps to counteract leaks that have sprung in the hold.

The crew is weary, confused, no one seems to know where to turn, what to do next.

That explains widespread uncertainty—the epidemic of "Shall I do this, or shall I lose if I do?" The storm is dying down. Land is in sight. Soon to port for repairs, general overhauling, new coat of paint, new masts, new rudder, then out to sea for another trip, all hands singing.

It's a beautiful picture. Also, an inevitable development. No storm can last forever. With this one over, uncertainty will vanish, confidence be restored. It's returning now.

ETERNAL
Edison and Ford go to Florida, where Ponce de Leon, Spanish explorer, sought the foundation of eternal youth more than 400 years ago. He didn't find it. Edison and Ford have.
Edison is past 75. Ford soon will be 59. Their viewpoint on life is youthful—keenly interested in all progress, looking to the future, open to new ideas. That is real youth. The age and physical condition of the body are secondary.

PSYCHIC DEPRESSION
David Powell, London merchant, visits New York and says what he notices most is widespread psychic depression.
"People seem apprehensive and there seems to be almost an atmosphere of fright."
Powell says he has heard it put forth that prohibition has brought about this change. That may be. A nation, like an individual, is bound to be dazed and nervous when it sobers up.

DEFECTIVE SCHOOL CHILDREN
Three-fourths of the school children in New York state are physically defective, says Dr. Thomas D. Wood of Columbia University.
His estimates would seem accurate, even without the survey on which it is based. Physical perfection is as hard to find as a mathematically perfect face. Human body is a machine as imperfect as it is marvelously intricate.
Dr. Wood found only 13 per cent of farm children with physical defects. A youth in the country is worth as much as, possibly more than, a good education.

ELECTRIFIED
A third of the farm land in Sweden now uses electricity for power. Farmers over there are beginning to make inquiries about electric-propelled plows and harrows. Many of them use electric saws to cut their firewood and lumber. Some even have electric elevators that lift whole wagon-loads of hay and grain to the mow.
Swedish government officials predict it'll only be a few years until practically their whole country will be on an electrical basis.
Where does the power come from? Usually, large waterpower plants. But many Swedish farmers dam small streams and use the falling water to generate their own.
A tip there for American farmers.

EDITORIAL REVIEW
Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

"I AM A REPUBLICAN"
In the official announcement of his candidacy made this week Senator Porter J. McCumber throws consternation into the ranks of those who oppose him and silences his critics with the statement, "I am a Republican. I am not a socialist."
He makes no promises for the future and gives no pledges other than to work untiringly to promote the prosperity of all the people of the country and protect the constitutional rights of persons and property. He states that because of the demands made upon his time as a member of congress that he will be unable to make an active campaign in the state but is willing to stand upon his past record.

And in the statement quoted above the senior senator from North Dakota uttered the keynote of the coming campaign. A campaign that must be fought out strictly along party lines if the best interests of the state and nation are to be considered.
Here in North Dakota we must get back to normalcy as far as this phase of political issues is concerned. During the past six years there has been too much "flirting" in a political way. The voters, however, are beginning to show signs of recovery from their political apathy and are again ready to follow the trail marked out by the platforms of the two old parties. Unless they do this, we cannot hope for the best things in government, either for the state or nation. We have had enough hybrids. The Independent Voters association, although necessary to overcome threatened disaster, has served its purpose. If it has left in its wake a horde of disappointed office seekers they alone are to blame. If, within the league ranks there are those who backslid from the ranks to climb upon the official band wagon which that organization was in its heyday of pomp and power, they too deserve to be swept into oblivion.

It is true that the league leaders stole the organization of the Republican party within the state and made it serve their purpose for a time. This is past history and those socialists who rode into office upon its influence are doomed to fall. Opponents of Senator McCumber and other party leaders in the state realize this and are making a frantic attempt to stem the tide of public opinion. Some of them disguised as republicans are still trying to get into office but their efforts will be in vain.
Not one of those who have announced themselves upon such a platform dares stand on his individual record as Senator McCumber has agreed to do for both the platform and record of these political castoffs savors not of republicanism and sound government but of socialism, modified perhaps, but nevertheless—socialism.—Dickinson Press.

PROCLAMATION
MEMORIAL SERVICE DAY
WHEREAS, The Government has now completed the work of transferring from the battle-fields of France to their own beloved country the thousands of soldiers, sailors, marines, and nurses who made the supreme sacrifice for the preservation of the great principles and ideals underlying the foundation and growth of the land they loved, and
WHEREAS, Funeral services are to be held in the City of Bismarck at three o'clock, eastern standard time, on the afternoon of Sunday, April 2nd, for the last shipment of these heroes, and
WHEREAS, It seems most fitting and proper that all of the congregations of all of the denominations of the United States should join in one funeral service to be held in the City of Brooklyn, and that the whole people should be permitted at that time to unite in thoughtful and prayerful appreciation of the splendid services and great sacrifices made by those who laid down their lives across the seas in defense of the ideals so much revered by the people of this nation.
NOW THEREFORE, I, R. A. Nestos, Governor of the State of North Dakota do hereby designate and set aside
SUNDAY APRIL SECOND
MEMORIAL SERVICE DAY
and respectfully request that flags be displayed at half-mast during the entire day, and in so far as possible, appropriate exercises be held in all churches, that church bells be tolled at intervals between the hours of 2 p. m. and 3 p. m. and that the memory of those who laid down their lives upon European soil during the recent conflict be honored by a grateful people for the great service and sacrifice they have made.
Done at Bismarck, N. Dak., this 28th day of March, 1922.
By the Governor: R. A. NESTOS, Governor.
Thomas Hall, Secretary of State.

"PRAIRIE SMOKE," POPULAR BOOK, WINS PRAISE OF MANY LITERARY EDITORS

"Prairie Smoke" was written at the instigation of State Superintendent of Public Instruction Miss Minnie Nielson, who has included it in the prescribed courses of reading for the Pupils' Reading Circles of North Dakota schools. It should be in all schools and libraries. It is unique.
As its title indicates, "Prairie Smoke," is "a collection of lore of the prairies." The author, who is a student of native wild life, and a botanist, has acquired this prairie lore from the Indians and the older generation among the several tribes of the Missouri river region to whom he has gone as an inquirer in his ethnobotanical explorations. With a knowledge of the languages of these tribes and with a sympathetic understanding of their mental and spiritual attitude, he has been able to transcribe into simple and forceful English their thoughts, their traditions and their myths. "The myths of the country in which we live," Dr. Gilmore says, "are at least equal in beauty and interest to the myths of the old Greeks, and to the old Teutonic myths of Thor, Odin and Freya; or even to our own old British myths which we have from our Druidic ancestors."
To these native races, the real pioneers of the Plains, he declares his little book, to the first inhabitants of this country in which we dwell, that "something of their sense of its beauty and wonder, may come to us; that we may the more worthily occupy and sympathetically enjoy our tenure of this land."

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts
It did seem as though Nancy and Nick were never to get over the Seven Mountains.
They hadn't gone over half of them yet, and here they were with another difficulty before them. Someone had stolen the lost record from his hiding place. Without it, it was of no use to continue their journey toward the Princess Thelma Palace.
No, it wasn't Two Toes, the Sorcerer, who had taken it. He was not allowed to follow them. Besides, after finding that the terrible dreams he had sent to the Twins had come to nothing, he was so disgusted that he flew back to his cave and changed himself from a bat into a dragon again. And there he sulked and sulked. I hope he enjoyed himself doing it.
Nick and Nancy stood looking and looking at the hollow place in the ground where the record had been, trying to make up their minds what to do next, when Nancy happened to kick a stone with her toe. As it rolled away she saw a round hole.
"Just look there!" she pointed. "I believe it was the gnomes, Nick. Crookabone or Jigabone or Snip Scissors has come and stolen it just for meanness!"
Scarcely had she finished speaking when a tiny creature came out followed by a dozen others. The creature wasn't a bug or a beetle or a fly, for he wore the finest of clothes, being dressed in scarlet satin with a large neck ruff and a high pointed hat. The others following were quite as elegant.
"Good-night, friends," he called to those behind him. "We've stayed later than usual. The sun's quite up. But no wonder! With such a fine new dance floor!"
"I'd certainly like to know what kind person left it here for us," Suddenly he spied the Twins. "My, my, whom have we here?" he asked in a condescending voice.
"Nancy and Nick," said Nancy. "And who are you?"
"We are the Squiddilums," said the tiny person. "At your service."

Personnel Changed in Board Elections

Many complete changes in the personnel of village boards were effected in the elections held generally throughout the slope towns during the last ten days.
At Dunn Center an entire new board was chosen composed of J. M. Whitaker, John Pockert, Oscar Boe, trustees; Frank Blydenburgh, assessor; W. F. Moede, treasurer; E. R. Babcock, clerk; Stanley Benton, marshal; Wm. Taylor, justice of the peace.
Benah re-elected its old board of trustees, R. Becker, marshal; Fred Gantz, clerk; Max Martell, assessor; L. F. Temme, treasurer, and F. Schnitker, Dr. Smith and Editor A. D. Brown as members of the new park board.
Close contests featured the election at Selfridge with J. A. Nagel, F. K. Colley and W. H. Ordway winning as trustees; Mrs. F. M. Redman, clerk-treasurer; and Jas. Caddell, marshal. All officers were re-elected at Flasher, A. Busch, J. Mallay, and E. F. Leonard, trustees; Frank Tischler, clerk; O. Westrum, treasurer; Dick Grabenhorst, marshal; A. G. Osburn, assessor; A. H. Middlemas, justice.
Golden Valley polled a small vote with only one contest made, H. E. Trousdale defeating Gottlieb Lang by three votes for trustee. Others elected were Art Heibing and Wm. R. Neumann, trustees; W. A. Muralit, clerk; C. J. Schwallier, treasurer; H. G. Klindworth, assessor; Jacob Underrecht, marshal; Editor L. E. Drreveschacht, justice.
The village of Dodge chose J. B. Fisher, P. E. Goetz, and John Stern as trustees; F. J. Ruff, clerk; A. Elsing, assessor; J. A. Jacobs, treasurer; J. T. Harvey, justice, and Wm. Armitage, marshal.
Garson elected H. F. Altman, Dean Helland, and W. A. Hart, aldermen; George Olson, treasurer; Alfred Anderson, assessor; A. D. LaDue, clerk; L. M. Hamery, justice; T. R. Johnson, marshal, and Col. I. N. Steen and Gus Schubert as members of the board of conciliation.
New Leipzig saw a hot fight between H. B. Provolt and Emil Will, the former winning as trustee with Emanuel Hertz and Val Hoerner as other members of the board. Others elected were O. D. Sprecher, treasurer, O. Williams, clerk; Christ, Justice, assessor; Henry Schmidt, justice, and Henry Kautz, marshal.
Mrs. L. F. Dougherty of Pennsylvania arrived in Mandan yesterday and will be a guest at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Place.
Clyde Voigt of Mandan is spending the week visiting in Fargo and Wahpeton.

POETS' CORNER

WHEN SOUTH WINDS BLOW
When south winds blow I'm goin' to go.
Just where, I hardly know nor care;
But I shall find some trail to wind
That leads me mostly anywhere.
I'll take my span and caravan
And, lazy-like, just jog along
By woodland nooks and babbling brooks.
Where life is full of April song.
And when the day has stole away
And I am kind of weary grown,
Beside some stream I'll rest and dream
When zephyrs from the south are blown.
Beneath the sky, my canopy,
On earthly green a bed I'll find;
And in the rent of heaven's tent,
The wonders there shall soothe the mind.
It seems as now I hear the sough
Of the fair south wind down the leaf;
In whispers low, it bids me go
And makes a ragabond of me.

Insurance in all its varied branches has come to play so vital a part in the world's business; the stupendous totals of the monies involved; the part these monies play in financing the multiplied activities of American industry; and the effect on every man, woman and child should these monies be withdrawn or the Companies responsible for them be seriously affected by adverse legislation, that more and more thinking people are demanding that those departments of both state and federal governments having to do with the safeguarding of the public interests and the solvency of the Companies who are custodians of these huge sums shall be in charge of men whose thoughts are not dominated by political motives.
Men, big-calibered and broad; men who can vision the suffering and misery which would be inflicted on millions of women, children, the aged and disabled whose resources consist only of insurance, whose incomes are derived solely from insurance; as well as tens of thousands of men and women employed in the industries, public work, and agriculture of the state and nation financed and made possible by the basic industry—insurance. Men, of a necessity, with wide experience in the insurance field.

FEED FURNACE DURING WINTER TO CONSERVE SUPPLY OF FUEL

Of Much Importance That Heating Plant Be Thoroughly Understood.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The average house owner burns too much coal, principally because he does not know how to regulate his heater, say engineers of the United States Department of Agriculture in Farmers' Bulletin 1194, "Operating Home-Heating Plant," published by the department. Many rural homes are now provided with furnaces, and the publication was prepared as a guide to their efficient operation, particularly in getting the most heat out of the fuel used and in making the home as healthful as possible.

The satisfactory and efficient heating of homes, according to the bulletin, requires that the chimney flue be of proper size and in the proper place, that the proper heating equipment be installed correctly, that the plant be understood thoroughly and operated so that it gives the most heat from the fuel consumed, that the house be constructed so that the heat is held in, that the air be kept moist, and that enough fresh air be admitted either continuously or from time to time to avoid the discomfort or unhealthful conditions due to accumulation of carbonic acid gas. In selecting fuel, the bulletin suggests that different kinds and sizes of coal should be tried out.

Should Be Properly Installed.

The best and highest-priced heater improperly installed may give less satisfaction than the poorest and cheapest put in correctly, says the bulletin. For this reason a man known to understand his business should install the plant. In selecting the furnace, consult owners of homes who have had experience in operating furnaces of different types.

Practically all heating plants have four dampers. A draft damper in the door of the ash pit is opened to admit air through the fire, which causes it to burn rapidly. A check damper located in the smoke pipe is opened to admit cold air into the flue, thus interfering with the draft and retarding the burning of fuel in the heater. The damper located in the feed door is used for the same purpose. Through it cold air is admitted directly over the fire, and if opened while it acts as a check. When regulated properly it admits just sufficient air to supplement that admitted through the draft damper and causes more perfect combustion of the fuel. The smokepipe damper is located between the furnace and the check draft and can be used to control the draft above the fuel in windy weather or at night.

Asbes should not be permitted to accumulate in the ash pit, as this retards the draft and the heat causes the grate bars to become warped and bent. As a rule it is not necessary to shake down the ashes more than once or twice a day, except in very cold weather, and shaking should be stopped as soon as live sparks begin to fall into the ash pit. In mild weather coal can be saved by permitting an accumulation of ashes in the grate.

Sealing Cracks Saves Heat.

It is economy to seal the cracks about doors and windows with weather strips, and where the weather is unusually cold, storm sash is recommended. With a wind velocity of 15 miles an hour a crack of three-thirty-seconds of an inch, which is much less than the average for doors and windows, permits the passage of about 1 1/2 cubic feet of air a minute for every linear foot. An ordinary double-sash window (36 inches wide and 72 inches high) would thus admit 80 cubic feet of air a minute. In a room 10 feet wide by 20 feet long, having two windows of this kind, there would be required approximately 80 per cent more heat units to heat it properly than if the entrance of the air was controlled and a complete change allowed once every hour.

In addition to maintaining a proper temperature, the moisture present in the air is a great factor in heating homes. The water pan in the furnace should always be kept filled, and other means provided for the evaporation of water in the living room. Not only are rooms in which the air has a high percentage of moisture more economically heated, but living conditions are more healthful.

Copies of the bulletin may be had upon request of the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C.

CALORIMETER SHOWS HARDEST HOME WORK

Washing, Sweeping and Scrubbing Most Laborious.

Series of Experiments Made on Energy Expended by Woman in Performance of Household Tasks—Way of Lightening.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

It does not require a laboratory experiment to convince any woman that washing and scrubbing are about the hardest work she has to do; but it will be interesting to many housekeepers to know the order in which their tasks rank when tested under laboratory conditions. For this purpose a specially designed respiration calorimeter was used by the United States Department of Agriculture. The results were measured in calories, for a series of 53 experiments on energy expenditure in the performance of household tasks.

It was found that such light tasks as sewing, crocheting, knitting, darning, and embroidering required an average expenditure of nine calories per hour more than that when the same subject was sitting quietly in a chair. Washing, sweeping, and scrubbing floors caused an increased energy expenditure of about fifty calories per hour over the expenditure at rest. Ironing, dressing a child, and dishwashing each required about twenty-four calories per hour.

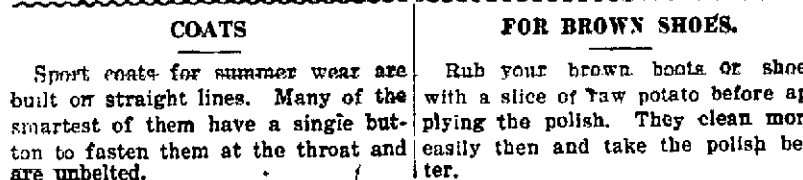

Ways of lightening the labor of various household tasks were also studied. It was found, for example, that when the height of the dishwashing table was varied the energy expenditure varied. If the subject worked in a comfortable position the expenditure of energy was 21 calories an hour. It was 25 calories when the wash-pail was set too high so that her arms were raised during work, and 30 calories when she was obliged to bend over.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

BY STANLEY

CHICAGO WHEAT.

Chicago, March 29.—Wheat averaged a little higher in prices today during the early trading, the chief factor being an upturn shown by final quotations at Liverpool. Besides some authorities were predicting an improvement in export demand. The opening which varied from unchanged to 3-8 cents advance was followed by a slight setback and then a moderate general advance, which, however, was not well maintained.

Talk of high winds in Kansas and of green bugs in Oklahoma received a good deal of attention for a while but were more than offset by bearish advices later.

TWO IRISHMEN SIT ON BOARD AND CAST VOTE

J. I. Cahill Declines To Give Up
Place on State Board of Administration

J. I. Cahill rather likes the place of member of the state board of administration. And he's going to stay there if he can. Mr. Cahill, although told by the governor that he was no longer a member of the board and the board voted yesterday to seat R. B. Murphy, of Grafton, today marched up to the capitol to take his place in the board offices. He also was ready to make a trip to Jamestown with the board tomorrow and to be in Fargo Saturday with the board. Both Mr. Murphy and Mr. Cahill were in good sorts when the first meeting which both attended was held yesterday morning. They joked with each other, even after the board voted to seat Mr. Murphy. There was another long session in the afternoon. By this time the fun of the situation had begun to wear a little and the two members answered in a strictly business-like way. Mr. Cahill refused to leave the board after the board voted to recognize Mr. Murphy. He sat in at the afternoon meeting, cast his vote and seconded motions. Charles Muir permitted Mr.

Cahill to participate in the meeting. There was no roll-call vote, however, and only routine matters were transacted. Just what action he will take Mr. Cahill was not prepared to say without further consulting his attorney. He had declared he would not recognize the order declaring he had forfeited his office because of failure to qualify, and he was packing his grip ready to go with the board to Jamestown. Just what the minutes will show when the next board meeting is held is a matter of conjecture now.

TO TRY SUIT ON ITS MERITS

Devils Lake, N. D. March 29.—Counsel for the 14 Edmore, N. D., tax-payors suing to have set aside the $75,000 in school warrants issued in that town on the ground that it is in excess of the legal debt limit, appeared before Judge A. G. Burr in district court here in an attempt to secure a restraining order against the school board to stop the further sale of the school warrants. After an argument between counsel for the taxpayers and for the school board, it was agreed that the case will be tried on its merits before Judge Burr in this city next Monday, April 3. Counsel for the school board and for E. O. Molina of Bottineau, contractor who erected the new Edmore school, agreed that in the meantime no more warrants would be offered for sale, thus eliminating the necessity of securing an injunction against them. The 14 taxpayers allege that the school cost about $82,000 in excess of the legal debt limit. The school has been built and the warrants issued, many of them having already been cashed.

KILLED IN RUSSIA

Harvey, N. D. March 29.—A. A. Vetsch, of Harvey, has just received word that his brother, Michael Vetsch, who was a resident of Russia, was killed by the Bolsheviks in 1918. Mr. Vetsch was corresponding with his brother regularly until 1914 at about the time the World war broke out, but since that time has not received any communication or been able to get any word to his brother in Russia. While in Bismarck a month ago Mr. Vetsch inserted an advertisement in the Nordlicht, a German newspaper in that city which sends about 100 copies to Russia. Mr. Vetsch has just received a reply to his advertisement to the effect that his brother in Russia and the latter's wife son and three daughters were massacred by the Bolsheviks in 1918. Mrs. Michael Vetsch's parents were also massacred at the same time.
